

This literature QR assessment instrument is designed to evaluate whether or not several QR learning goals have been met including: students' ability to (a) distinguish between absolute numbers and percentages or rates; (b) select relevant data to support an argument; and (c) correctly and clearly write about numbers, percentages and/or rates.