Hi, NAGT-TED members!

What a challenging month this has been! And how awesome to realize that you are up to that challenge!
- Kudos to each of you who has:
  - Survived illness or injury during this time of global pandemic
  - Successfully moved your teaching online
  - Somehow not killed any family members (yet)

We are social distancing but stronger together as community than ever before.

Earth Educator Rendezvous 2020 abstract acceptances were sent out on 31 March. As Contributed Program Co-Chairs Chris Berg and Ryan Hollister wrote:

> “EER leadership is currently in discussions exploring the possibilities of offering the conference as a face-to-face meeting as originally planned as well as researching the feasibility of moving the meeting to a virtual format. We will have additional information to share with contributors by mid-April.”
